

The High-Tech Industry in Israel - General Review and Recent Trends

The prestigious ranking guide Legal 500 has recently published a professional review of the high-tech industry in Israel, which was written by the high-tech department of our firm.

We invite you to review our general analysis of the Israeli high-tech world and to catch up on latest trends in the industry, to which we have been exposed in recent months.

The review is based on the many years of experience (both legal and commercial) of the department's lawyers, who provide ongoing legal advice to dozens of start-ups, investment funds, technology companies and investors of all types, in a variety of fields.

We are proud of our ability to provide our clients, in addition to comprehensive legal services, with unique strategic-commercial advice on all matters related to the high-tech industry in Israel.

We would like to take this opportunity to note that our firm was recently ranked as one of the leading firms in Israel practicing high-tech law by the international rating guide The Legal 500. In addition, the Israeli rating guide BDi - Business Data of Israel ranked our firm in the group of "elite" firms in many areas, including in the high-tech field.

For this we thank all our clients, partners and, of course, our amazing team of lawyers.

We are at your disposal for any question.
